

Seek The Son

Rev. Theresa Taylor & family October 2009

It remains incredible to witness God working through the changing of seasons. Fall came in with a fury, but there still exists glimpses of the summer. This newsletter will remind us of many fabulous events from this past summer. We thank God for every opportunity and blessing and even challenges He puts before us!

2011

July found Theresa busily working on finishing up projects and beginning new classes for school. She is still on track to graduate with her doctorate of ministry in pastoral care with an emphasis on disability awareness. This happy event will be in 2011.

Theresa continues to network with other disability awareness ministries to organize pertinent information to help understand reconciliation and the disabled in the church environment.

Theresa and Ken attended a conference in August hosted by Transform University. This conference gathered social innovators from all over the world. Each person was asked to share their dream. Theresa shared her dream to open a reconciliation center to help people understand the process of accepting their "other other".

This reconciliation process first involves forgiving ourselves. Next we need to forgive those closest to us. Finally, we need to find people we are most uncomfortable with and learn to respect one another. This is our "other other" This is a long term dream, but an exciting endeavor. The location for this reconciliation center will be in a diverse community of the Twin Cities. The steering committee will hopefully be organized by February, 2010.

Another pursuit Ken and Theresa are exploring relates to living in intentional communities. Seek the Son still desires to open a year round retreat center, but in the process an intentional community may meet several needs of the disabled. The main objectives of this type of community relates to sharing resources, living simply and living for the Lord. Please pray as we extensively research this concept and become a hospitality home for those in need.

An exciting new adventure for Theresa involves her teaching a class about disabilities at Bethel Seminary. She is pleased to teach this class and help others to understand special needs. It is awesome to see the many ways God is allowing the mission of Seek the Son to touch others. The saving power of Jesus Christ must and will reach the disabled. Thank you Lord for the opportunities you place before us to serve and love you!

Finally, Ken and Theresa want to personally thank Ginny Owens for the spectacular concert she provided for Seek the Son. Ginny poses a phenomenal gift of sharing her love for the Lord through her music and her testimony. She is also a fun loving adventurous spirit. She has become a dear friend and a fellow kingdom worker. Many were blessed by her music, stories and her personality. Her latest Album "Say Amen" has the title song with this chorus;

"Say Amen, because you cannot bear your cross alone. When you realize you are not on your own and when all your pride is finally gone, say amen. When the only thing you have is faith, I know that every step I take is leading me to His embrace. I know I am holding tighter to his hand and that's when I can say amen."

Please consider partnering with Seek the Son. We want to share our passion with you personally. Please consider hosting a dessert in your home with friends to learn about the mission of our hearts. Call to schedule these events. It will be fun and very fruitful for the Lord.

We continue to covet your prayers in following God's plan for our lives and His ministry.
